attention in sporting circles must and trap for the next couple of days. From ex-champions in the game of biff, Salt Lake is to be entertained by champions at blue rock breaking. The intermountain shooting tournament, the biggest event of its kind ever held in this part of the country, is on today and from 9 o'clock this morning until 5 o'clock this part of the country, is on today and from things his own way at the local shooting grounds northeast of the city. On Thursday this programme will be repeated.

It is estimated that 25,000 blue rocks will be hurled through the air from six expert traps. This means that 25,000 shells will be exploded and as each load carries from three to three and one-half ounces of shot it would make a total of over two tons of lead sent spinning through the air in the two days' sport.
